

Faye Pattison BSc Physiotherapy, MSc Sports and exercise medicine, MCSP, HCPC, AACP

Faye has been a Physiotherapist since 2006, qualifying at the University of East London. She then went to the United States of America to work with athletes. On returning she began working at Springfield Hospital and obtained her Masters degree in Sports and Exercise Medicine. At the beginning of 2012, she established Faye Pattison Physiotherapy, which is her biggest passion. During 2012, she was honoured to be asked to work at the London 2012 games throughout both the Olympics and the Paralympics. Faye Pattison Physiotherapy has continued to go from strength to strength serving the local community and working alongside all the local consultants, to give the best outcomes for patients.

Her passion is physiotherapy, with her focus to make the patient feel relaxed and comfortable whilst maintaining a professional approach. She takes a whole-body holistic approach to assessment to find the source of pain, proceeding to treatment accordingly dependent upon findings. She uses a multitude of treatment techniques to suit the individual that she is working with in order to be able to treat the condition in the most efficient, effective and timely manner.
